

How is Dioraphte dealing with the consequences of the new Coronavirus?

The continuing spread of the new coronavirus (SARS-CoV2 - Covid-19) affects many Dioraphte partners and their activities.

We explain our policies here.

Activities for which a grant was already given

Some activities need to be changed, postponed or adjusted. The agreements in the grant letter, and related conditions, remain in force. But we'd like to reach a workable solution with you. Please contact your project advisor at Dioraphte.

If you need to postpone an activity, we agree this in principle. For long postponements, we may in some cases ask you for a new application, which we'll be glad to look at.

If you need to make changes to your activity, we'll consider this too. In that case we will request a new budget from you and discuss with you the possibility of an adjusted donation.

If an activity is cancelled, or stopped (for example during preparation), the grant will expire, and any advance payments must be repaid. However, costs will often already have been incurred. As a starting point, we are prepared to grant you our pro rata part of those costs as a gift. In any case, we would like to receive an overview in which the actual costs are offset against the budget from the application.

New applications

Right now, it's difficult to see where our support will be most needed, and which (new) projects deserve the most support. Therefore, we need to be cautious about new applications. However, we want to help existing partners continue their work under difficult circumstances. And we don't rule out applications from new partners. Despite being affected by the falling stock markets, we're continuing our work, and we're not reducing our budget for grants. Our time to process applications remains the same, so in that respect: business as usual.

How to reach us

As usual, send information such as payment requests, reports and updates to postbus@dioraphte.nl. For questions regarding changes to your activities, you can also use that email address. In all cases, please state the project number.

If you need to reach us by phone, please email us at postbus@dioraphte.nl with the subject you want to discuss and a number we can reach you on.

We wish everyone strength coping with the changes and limitations of the Corona situation.
